

BRNO – PÉCS ENVIRONMENTAL HUMANITIES CONFERENCE
29. March 2023. Pécs

Department of Environmental Studies
Masaryk University, Brno, Czechia
and
Dep. of European Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology
University of Pécs, Hungary
Ró 01/E room

Section	Timetable	Presentation
	9.00-9.10	Greetings
Section 1.	9.10-9.30	Jan Malý Blažek: Economy of eco-communities: reflections from the European research
	9.30-9.50	Eva Fraňková: Economic alternatives in the context of degrowth
	9.50-10.10	Judit Farkas: Women in rural eco-communities
	10.10-10.30	Discussion
	10.30-11.00	Coffee break
Section 2.	11.00-11.20	Anna Varga: The role of herding and local pasturelands during childhood
	11.20-11.40	Vojtěch Pelikán: Voluntary simplicity in the Czech Republic and its intergenerational transmission
	11.40-12.00	Réka Kurucz: The relation of landscape structure, collectivization and winegrowing in the western part of the Villány Wine Region
	12.00-12.20	Discussion
	12.20-13.20	Lunch break

Section 3.	13.20-13.40	Tamara Meierová: Frustrated or fulfilled? Motivation of Czech farmers to implement green and blue infrastructure measures
	13.40-14.00	Pál Balogh: A non-traditional ecological knowledge? The relation of contemporary Hungarian cheesemakers with their ecological environment
	14.00-14.20	Alexandra Czeglédi: Saving, caring, sharing: Small-scale farmers mediating human and non-human assemblages with underutilised and forgotten crops
	14.20-14.40	Discussion
	14.40-15.10	Coffee break
Section 4.	15.10-15.30	Karel Stibral: The discovery of mountains for mass tourism and nature conservation, through their "alpinization" and "globalization" - the case of the Giant Mountains
	15.30-15.50	Gábor Máté: Stories of liminality. The perception of village boundaries from archival and contemporary sources.
	15.50-16.10	Péter Szabó: Traditional forest management and modern nature conservation
	16.10-16.30	Discussion
	16.30-16.40	Closing words
	19.00-21.30	Free Public screening of Martin Saxer's film, Murghab - Murghab (murghabfilm.com) Apolló cinema, Pécs Please register, https://forms.gle/nn8WFJh61B2SFUqx9