

Department of English Applied Linguistics

Suggested thesis topics

Last updated: 19 April 2023

Arató Szonja

Fekete Adrienn

1. Identity in SLA, identity in education, identity & individual differences, teacher & learner identities, multilingual & multicultural identities
2. Learners' and teachers' individual differences in SLA, the psychology of the learner/the teacher,
3. Intercultural communication: identity and individual differences in intercultural communication and during sojourn
4. Emotions in SLA, the transformative potential of language learning, imagination, investment
5. the psychology and methodology of online education
6. Educational drama, drama-based teaching & learning
7. Teaching and learning English as a foreign language (EFL) vs as a lingua franca (ELF)

Horváth József

Huszákné Urbán Erika

Lehmann Magdolna

Lugossy Réka

1. the role of narratives/children's literature in supporting language and literacy development
2. teachers' beliefs
3. perspectives on language socialization

Nikolov Marianne

Simon Krisztián

1. teaching materials and content development
2. online, blended and mobile learning
3. creativity in language teaching
4. gamification in the language classes
5. language teaching methodology

Szabó Gábor

1. assessing foreign/second language proficiency
2. psycholinguistic aspects of SLA
3. sociolinguistic aspects of SLA